How The City of La Jolla Benefits San Diego Region

A Win-Win Vision: The City of La Jolla initiative is more than just a local pursuit. It is a collaborative vision for regional benefit and prosperity. The infusion of funds to underserved areas will catalyze positive change and foster a more vibrant San Diego for everyone.

Financial Relief for San Diego: A self-governed La Jolla means San Diego is relieved of all costs and liabilities for maintaining some of the oldest infrastructure in San Diego.

Net-Neutral Payments: San Diego will receive payments from the City of La Jolla to achieve net-neutrality between both parties.

New Income Stream: The City of San Diego will receive a new income stream for municipal services to be contracted from them by The City of La Jolla.

Boosting Regional Revenue: Polishing La Jolla as a worldwide destination will boost sales tax and Transient Occupancy Tax (TOT) to further increase the San Diego region's revenue stream.

New Public Revenues: The City of La Jolla will bring increased funding to the area through federal, state and county subventions and grants.

Enhancing Public Safety and Cleanliness: Local governance ensures quicker, more efficient responses to public requests, creating a safer and cleaner environment for everyone.

Revitalizing Our Aged Infrastructure: Identifying infrastructure needs to create an enhanced physical environment that will go deep into the future; parks, streets, public rights of way, safety and coastline management are all priorities.

A Voice in Sacramento & Beyond: The City of La Jolla will broaden the scope of representation for the San Diego region statewide.

Pursuing a self-governed La Jolla is a practical step toward tangible benefits that directly enhance the quality of lives within La Jolla and throughout San Diego.
